Service Project Story 20___

Service-learning is when a member completes a service project that is of high value to the community and also helps facilitate high levels of learning for the member. Service-learning is rarely accomplished in a one-time event. Service-learning should not be confused with volunteerism (example: roadside clean-up) or community service (example: helping at a nursing home one time).

Use this story to describe one experience from this year with volunteerism, community service, or service-learning – striving each year for service-learning. Describe the most impactful service project that you actively participated in this year. Be sure to include some photos and discuss the following details:

- What project did you participate in?
- Was the project volunteerism, community service, or service-learning? How do you know?
- Why did you select this project?
- How did you help plan and implement this project?
- What was your role in this project?
- How did this project benefit your community?
- What new knowledge or skills did you develop as a result of doing this project?
- How did you know that your project was successful?
